

PANJAB UNIVERSITY, CHANDIGARH

No. 1157-59/15/FC

Dated: 12th March, 2018

As you are aware that the university has provided an online portal for deposit of fee by the students through 'I-Collect' scheme of State Bank of India.

To deposit the fee through online system, using the 'I-Collect' portal of State Bank of India, a detailed procedure has already been circulated to all the Departments.

However, it has been observed that the students of your department are not using the above portal for deposit of fee through online mode. Rather they are depositing the fee through 'NEFT' which is a general mode of payment. As a result of which, the university is not able to capture the required details of such students and resultantly the names of such students (who deposits the fee through NEFT) are shown as defaulters in the university record.

In order to avoid hassles to such students, it is requested that the students of your departments may be advised to use only the "I-Collect" portal of State Bank of India for the deposit of fee through online mode.

For the sake of convenience, the procedure for deposit of fee through online mode (by using 'I-Collect' portal of State Bank of India) is again detailed here below:
